MARCH 18 2018

I will place my law within them
and write it upon their hearts;
I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

Jeremiah 31:33

From Father Walter's desk...
"How Can I Diminish My Fears?"

Notice that I use the word "diminish" rather than eliminate. We will probably always have some fears, and maybe we can even admit that some fears are good to have. Having a good survival instinct (thus fear of losing my life) makes me more careful when I walk across the street, rather than being reckless and refuse to look both ways when I do walk across the street. Likewise, it is good to maintain a fear of fire. I'll be careful around fire as a result of such fear. See my point?

However, why would I want to maintain a fear of God or maintain a fear of people for the only reason that they are different from me? Does life have to be this way? I don't think so, and I know that the Church doesn't think so either. Scripture would have us love God first and foremost, and then to love our neighbor as ourselves. And if you read the last sentence again carefully you will see that God gives us the answer as to how to eliminate our fears of both God and neighbor. The secret, given in broad daylight by the way, is to love our neighbor "as ourselves."

You see, I know me. It doesn't matter if spiritual and psychological writers challenge me to know myself better, presuming as they do that I do not know myself well enough. Allowing for the fact that such a challenge is indeed wonderful, it doesn't change the fact that I still know myself better than I know you. But I admit that I can learn more about myself. I can enter into a process of self-education where I can get e better grasp of why I do things the way I do, and in this way improve the way I behave toward others so that more peace and joy is now able to enter into my life. And what again makes this improvement possible? The answer is education. I used the word "self education," however, the answer is still education.

Isn't it at least possible that God is inviting us to use the same process toward Himself and our neighbors? Consider for a moment that the best way to overcome my fear of people who might be different from me is to educate myself as to eho they are. People of a different religion frighten me? Buy a book about that religion, preferably from someone currently in that religion, and educate myself about what they believe. Maybe my fear is a lot simpler than that. Perhaps I am fearful of the person across the street who even shares my religion? Find a way to learn about that person. Compassion is a wonderful time-proven way of educating me about others; compassion derived from "walking a mile in their moccasins," as the old Native American saying goes, is nothing short of timeless wisdom. The Bible would have us not judge others, or at least judge myself more than I judge others. This too, is timeless wisdom that comes from our very own spiritual heritage.

And the same process holds true of God. Was I brought up in a way that leaves me with images of a judging God, causing me to turn to be afraid of Him? If so, the answer here, too, is found in education. Read as much as you can about God from the Catholic tradition. If you go deeper into an understanding of God in this way, you will find enough wisdom and balanced, measured viewpoints, that eventually you will find your fears simply melting away. I am convinced that ongoing education is the only path to walk.

Peace, Fr. Walt

WE ARE IN NEED OF BEREAVEMENT MINISTERS

Because of the normal changes in peoples' lives, the ample number of ministers has been reduced and OLOP is seeking new ministers. You will have personal contact with families who are mourning the death of a loved one and will be helping them plan the funeral liturgy.

Is God calling you to this very fulfilling and worthwhile ministry?

Preparing Oneself For Divine Mercy Sunday

Divine Mercy Sunday ~ Sunday, April 8, 2018

~ Confession~

"Daughter, when you go to confession, to this fountain of My mercy, the Blood and Water which came forth from My heart always flows down upon your soul and ennobles it. Every time you go to confession, immerse yourself entirely in My mercy, with great trust, so that I may pour the bounty of My grace upon your soul. When you approach the confessional, know this, that I Myself am waiting there for you. I am only hidden by the priest, but I myself act in your soul."

(Diary, 1602)

Our Savior is so compassionate! While He is certainly offended and grieved by our sins, He also sees clearly how our sins can wound and tear the very life out of our souls. In other words, He sees how mankind is "aching" from sin, and so He wants not only to forgive our sins, but to heal our hearts, too, pressing them close to His own Merciful Heart.

Everyone count, everyone say 'when was the last time I went to confession?' And if much time has passed, do not lose another day. Go, the priest will be good. Jesus is there, and Jesus is more benevolent than priests, Jesus receives you, He receives you with so much love. Be courageous and go to Confession!

It is recommended, not required, to make a good confession prior to Divine Mercy Sunday

At the 8th grade Confirmation retreat, Fr. Terry asked Candidates to answer questions as if they were God. These are their answers…

INTERVIEW WITH GOD

1. Fr. Terry: God, What are You most proud of making?
   Students: The universe, the world, nature, living things, Adam and Eve, human life. Everything.
2. Fr. Terry: God, Is there something You wish You wouldn't have made?
   Students: The devil, war, Nazis, Adam and Eve, original sin, bugs, disease, anger, guns, darkness. Nothing.
3. Fr. Terry: God, What do You look like?
   Students: I look like you, pure light, holy, pure and glorious, perfect, I don't know, long hair with white clothes, tall and skinny, majestic guy with a beard and long hair, wise and old, no distinct image, like Jesus.
4. Fr. Terry: God, What makes You angry?
   Students: When people sin and permanently turn away from me; followers of evil; people doing bad things like violence, when people don't confess sins, when people take advantage of their free will; Satan's influence on humans; war; breaking the First Commandment, nothing.
5. Fr. Terry: God, What makes You cry?
   Students: When people fight each other, when people go to hell, when people are hurting, God doesn't cry, evil, when people turn away from me, when people choose hell over heaven, when people don't forgive, when people suffer, humans choosing wrong over right, sin.
6. Fr. Terry: God, What makes You laugh?
   Students: When people make funny mistakes, memes, babies, people having fun, when people finally figure out what the meaning of life is, comedy movies, a good joke.
7. Fr. Terry: God, How do You want to be worshipped?
   Students: In everything we do, through pure belief, prayers and dedication, going to Mass, reverently, respectfully, honestly, united, showing kindness to others, trustfully, lovingly by everyone.
