FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

From Father Walter's desk...
"What Does Spirituality Look Like?"

This title must look like a most unusual question for a lot of people who consider spirituality to be an abstract topic and therefore, cannot look like anything. Well, it can. By our own actions, we reflect to the world what spirituality looks like -or doesn't. Can you imagine the best athlete in the world to look sickly? To look very thin to the point where you feel that you should call an ambulance for him? Unthinkable! How about a weight lifter who records a bench pressing record of 500 or more pounds, in turn weighing hardly anything himself and looking skeletal? You would have to wonder if what allows him to lift so much weight was God's gift of strong bones! However, I cannot imagine either example happening in reality at all. Athletes tend to walk their talk and look like someone to match their accomplishments. It's more in line to see athletes looking healthy because being healthy is a good part of what it means to be athletic. An accomplished weight lifter noted for lifting heavy weights will have very large muscles indeed, enlarged as a result of meeting the ongoing demands made on them.

Spiritual living is something like that in that you can tell a spiritual person by how he or she lives. Ironically, spiritual literature from the Bible to our own time will often reflect the spiritual path in athletic terms. Saint Paul will say things like, "I've fought the good fight. I've run the race." Saints and other spiritual writers since then will find it equally easy to use the metaphor of athletic activity themselves to describe real spiritual living. So, if an athlete will look healthy simply because of ongoing athletic activity, what would a spiritual person look like? This very question is an important one to really take the time to consider. The purpose of my letter is precisely to invite you to think along the lines of this question. Why? Well, what we visualize or not and how well we do it or not, can very easily be what determines the success or failure of our ability to achieve our life's goals. The clearer our visualization of our goals, the better will be our ability to achieve them. If we cannot visualize any one of them at all, wouldn't it be legitimate to ask ourselves whether or not we really know what we want?

There is still another element to this question, and this is the one of having goals in mind to the point where we can visualize them, but these goals do not reflect true life-giving values. Consider the following story. A motivational speaker once asked his audience to close their eyes and visualize an 80 year old man. While his audience did so, keeping their eyes closed, he had his 80 year old male friend who had been lifting weights for a good part of his life, come out on stage. This man looked like Charles Atlas or Jack LaLaine. People opened their eyes and gasped. This man looked healthier than most of his "younger audience." But his audience had different images of a person that age. They could not imagine someone that age being so athletic looking. Perhaps a number of them imagined someone 80 years old to look "appropriately" weak in some way, thereby "acting his age." Now, if such people keep such images, than that is what they will be aiming their own lives toward. And that is exactly why the motivational speaker did this. He wanted to destroy the possible weak images of his audience and to have them replaced with more dynamic, self empowering ones.

Spirituality is like that. It is important to have strong, healthy images of the spiritual life which in turn gives us something awesome to aim at which for me is something equally Biblically sounding and true to the Catholic tradition. I have to be able to say to myself that my religion is life giving, and by practicing it I will live an awesome life. I should be able to visualize pretty decently a Catholic hero/heroine and say to myself, "How this person behaved in life is how I want to be myself, and how I would like my children to be." If I doubt that statement, then I will be naturally hampered from directing my life along Catholic lines of thought. If I have no image at all of what a person "looks like" who successfully practices Catholic Spirituality, then I would have to admit that I have no solid goal at all as far as Catholic Spirituality is concerned. But now If I can visualize someone, for example, who is both loving and caring, being there for others, a True Servant of the Lord who is mindfully nourished by the Sacraments, then that is what I will become. So, what's your image?

Blessings! Fr. Walt

Every gift to the CMAA makes a difference!

The opening report for the 2018 Catholic Ministries Annual Appeal (CMAA) in today's bulletin details the many ways our annual appeal helps us do God's work here on earth and be His partners in caring.

As you will read in the opening report, the CMAA supports thirty ministries that benefit so many throughout the Diocese of Joliet. Your gifts to the CMAA will make a difference to members of our parish, friends and neighbors, and our brothers and sisters in need. Please complete the pledge card you received from the Diocese of Joliet and return it in the provided envelope or bring it with you to Mass next weekend.

Our parish's goal for the 2018 CMAA is $100,900. If we raise more than this goal, 70% of the amount paid over goal will be returned to us for our use. This is a great benefit for our parish! Thank you for prayerfully reflecting on your gift to this year's CMAA, and making the most generous pledge possible.

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time ~ 2/4/18

Busy, busy. All it took was Jesus to cure Simon's mother-in-law for her to cook a meal for a household of guests, and later, for the house to fill with everyone from town for even more healing. When Jesus sneaks off to pray, his disciples track him down and get him back to mercy work.

~ What do I see that needs doing? ~ How do I make time to pray in this busy world, in my busy life? ~ What is the mercy work I am called to do today?

THE DIVINE MERCY MESSAGE AND DEVOTION

Divine Mercy Sunday
Sunday, April 8, 2018

- The Message -

"My Heart overflows with great mercy for souls, and especially for poor sinners. If only they could understand that I am the best of Fathers to them and that it is for them that the Blood and Water flowed from My Heart as from a fount overflowing with mercy." (Diary, 367)

The message of The Divine Mercy is simple. It is that God loves us - all of us. And, He wants us to recognize that His mercy is greater than our sins, so that we will call upon Him with trust, receive His mercy, and let it flow through us to others. Thus, all will come to share His joy.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

This past week was Catholic Schools Week across the country. We were proud to host two open houses to show off our school. Last Sunday, we not only did we have many current families come to check out what their kids are doing, but we also had parishioners and prospective families that wanted to check out our school. We are proud of what our kids do every day in our wonderful school and we were happy to open our doors for everyone to see some of the many projects that they have created.

This past week was filled with Faith, Fun, and Friendship as we celebrated Catholic Schools Week. On Monday, we had mismatch day where the kids and staff put together some interesting combinations of clothes. We also had our annual Muffin Monday that is done by the Students Council. On Tuesday, we had a special adoration prayer service. After the prayer service, Fr. Walter explained parts of the service and had a question and answer session. On Wednesday, we had spirit day and played grade level games in the gym. Thursday was pajama day and Buddy treat day. Students and staff wore their favorite pair of pj's and brought in a nonperishable food item for our food pantry. All classes got together with their buddies and enjoyed Culver's custard. On Friday, we closed the week with a special Catholic Schools Week Mass and had dress up day for the students.

SCHOOL TOURS

Thank you to everyone that was able to come to one or both of our school open houses last week. If you were unable to attend our open houses last week, you can call the school (630-325-9220) for a school tour. We will work around your schedule to come up with a convenient day and time.

MARRIAGE:

Our Parish is a wonderful setting to celebrate your Sacrament of Marriage. Couples must make arrangements at least 1 year before your proposed wedding date to allow for ample time for Marriage Prep.

Please contact Deacon Larry Fudacz at 630-323-4333 Ext. 20.

BAPTISM:

Baptisms are celebrated on the second and on the fourth Sunday of each month immediately following the 12 Noon Mass.

We ask that the parents be registered members of the parish. First time parents must attend one hour (plus) of Pre-Baptismal instruction held on 2nd or 3rd Tuesdays of February, April, June, August, October and December at 7:30 p.m. in the Church Hall. The Pre-Baptismal class may be taken before the birth of the child.

Please contact Deacon Frank Vonesh for more information at 708-793-3505.

EUCCHARISTIC HOME AND HOSPITAL VISITATION MINISTRY:

Request CARDS for PASTORAL CARE VISITS can be found in the Church Lobby and may be placed in the weekend collection basket OR, please contact Deacon Pat Kenny at 630-323-4333 Ext. 19.
