Pastor Page! "Summer Time"

St. Augustine writes the following: "There we shall rest and we shall see. We shall see and we shall love. We shall love and we shall praise. Behold what shall be in the end and shall not end. For what other things is our end, but to come to that Kingdom of which there is no end." Everything we do and will do while we are alive can take on so much more meaning if examined and accomplished against the background of this richly poetic statement of St. Augustine in his book, City of God. We are never alone. We are not cut off from each other, or from God- unless we forget and are simply not aware. The key is to keep these truths within our awareness, somewhere in the back of our minds. It's a struggle to do this, sure, but then that is the point of St. Augustine's book. If one looks at the world realistically, we see that the struggle to love is always going to be there. But look at the successful end result of this struggle! God's Kingdom is victorious! The City of God is where we will live! Isn't this worth the struggle?

We have recently graduated our eight grade class; they are and will always be a wonderful group of people- students now and leaders of tomorrow. I can imagine that when the Roman Catholic Church instituted its school system, it was with the sentiment of St. Augustine in mind. If we were to educate our young people with the deep teachings of Christ in mind, teachings that have the power to transform hearts along with minds, then we would be closer to the final establishment of the Kingdom of God. It's not that the total struggle is up to them; rather, they would be taking over where we left off. Obviously, when we talk about educating people along Catholic lines of thought, we cannot exclude ourselves from the equation. Can there be a day off from this task? When looking at the world situation and the needs that constantly put themselves before our gaze, who can answer "yes?" What has to be kept in mind is that we are not talking about any specific task that we could take a day off. We are talking instead about the constant concerted effort to be as loving as we can. This is the foundation of our lives, and as such becomes the foundation of the City of God. If we can prayerfully aim our lives to be always in love, to be forgiving, patient, encouraging, with our sight always on God, then the needed tasks will become apparent. But if am more loving today than I was yesterday, then today I will notice the task, for yesterday I may have been oblivious to it. Spiritual practice allows us to be aware. Sin narrows our vision, and just does not permit the successful accomplishment of needed tasks. That's why we can talk about "sin in the world." Over the centuries, people's vision has maintained a narrow focus. And Christ continually encourages us to broaden our vision until it becomes easy to see what loving action needs to be done. When that day comes, the City of God is here.

So, we are left with a paradox of sorts. We are all facing vacation time. Yet, on some matters at least, foremost being the practice of our faith, there can never be a vacation. Our students have graduated, yet there is so much more to learn, for them and for us.

Peace, Fr. Walter

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM BISHOP CONLON...

May 21, 2018

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

This year, Father's Day is celebrated on June 17. There will be a special collection taken at Masses on June 16-17 to care for our infirmed and senior priests. The Fund for Diocesan Infirmed and Elderly Priests is a special way for the people of the Diocese of Joliet to express their concern for the welfare of those who have dedicated their lives in service to our pastoral care.

The money in this fund goes toward priests who need help with extraordinary medical expenses or suffer a catastrophic illness. It also provides for the care of the St. John Vianney Villa, home to several senior priests in the Diocese of Joliet.

Prayerfully consider making a donation to help our aged and sick priests as an expression of appreciation for all they have done in exemplifying Christ's mercy, through their spiritual guidance and celebration of the sacraments.

On behalf of all the active and senior priests of the diocese, I am grateful for your prayers and for your generous support of the Father's Day Collection for our aged and infirm diocesan priests. Please be assured of my prayers for you.

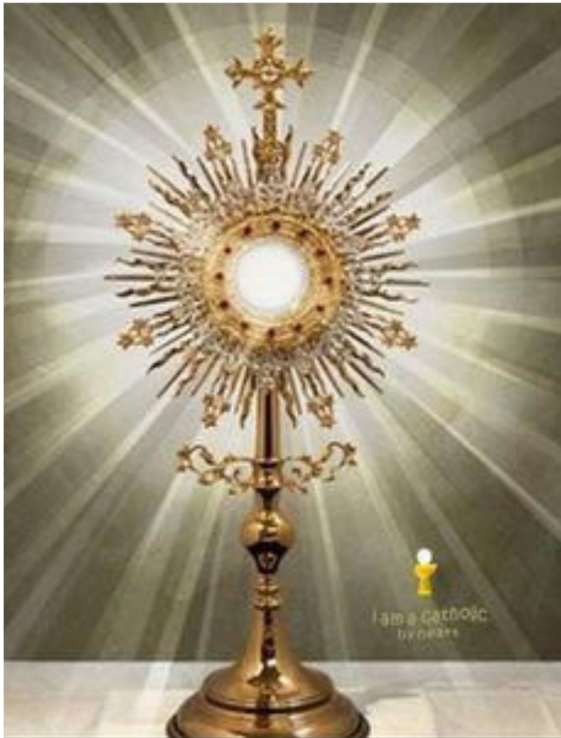

Most Reverend R. Daniel Conlon
Bishop of Joliet

LIVING DIVINE MERCY

- The Triumph of Living Mercy Part I -

"Proclaim that mercy is the greatest attribute of God. All the works of My hands are crowned with mercy." (Diary, 301)

Now comes the hard part. This means our witness to God's mercy must have integrity if it is to be credible to the world. We must live mercifully every day and allow God's mercy to transform us into men and women of mercy. Then our world itself will, in turn, become transformed by "the triumph of living mercy."

It isn't enough to attend a World Mercy Congress or help organize a Divine Mercy Sunday celebration in our area. The Lord Jesus is calling us to a witness of mercy the Monday morning after and throughout the rest of our lives. While this is challenging, Benedict has given us a program of mercy that can help us in pursuing this goal:

- We have each received a gift of Divine Mercy through our Baptism. The spiritual reality is that God in His great mercy has saved us through the Passion, death, and Resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ. In fact, God's mercy is at the heart of the Gospel and our sacramental life as Catholics.
- Growing daily in trust in God is our foundational response to His great mercy toward us. It is our love, hope, and faith put into action.
- We are called to cultivate a trustworthy hope in God's mercy. Thus, we can go forth in great confidence as "witnesses of God's mercy, a source of hope for every person and for the whole world."
- God's mercy is intended for all sinners. It is not our place to judge the souls of particular sinners. We are called to plead God's mercy for them, praying that they would receive the grace of repentance.
- Like the heart of the Good Samaritan, our hearts should be disposed toward serving our neighbor in need. Such a disposition of the heart is best fostered by a prayerful and sacramental life.
