"Respect Life"

Just like everyone else who has been attending Mass here this month, I heard our Bishop offer a wonderful message about respecting life. Quite naturally, everyone will pick out something in that message that will be particularly relevant to themselves. What caught my own attention was the Bishop's emphasis on the spiritual life. I thought his emphasis was at the same time a good insight, for it seems to me that most people would not think of the spiritual life when considered the theme of respecting life.

To respect life means to oppose abortion for most people. Some people would take it a step further and take on a pacifist stand. They will then find themselves opposing war. And once more, some people would take it one more step yet and oppose capital punishment. I suppose that it is possible that there would be people who give the concept a "green" spin and also desire to respect life by means of respecting our planet. After all, our planet does seem to be often times ill, noticeably with the increase of natural disasters that have been affecting our planet. Whether you agree or disagree, certainly we would admit to being at least aware of the multiple voices "out there" that attribute such natural disasters to human negligence, and in some cases, to human greed. My only point by bringing out these examples is to demonstrate that one can define "respecting life" along a pretty wide range. But nonetheless the various meanings that one can deduce in the respecting life theme, our Bishop offers yet one more by suggesting that it can also refer to our spiritual life. Yes, our spiritual life needs to be respected as well. It needs to be respected as much as new life; as much as the lives of all people affected by war and the continuing existence of capital punishment.

The implication of such a stance is profound. Take, for example, the feelings behind our Catholic anti-abortion movement, which is of course the most populous understanding of respecting life. Emotions run high when this topic is discussed. There are protests everywhere. I find this especially to be true over the past several years. Christian folk are just disgusted that this practice continues even now. Even the woman who was directly involved in the Roe vs. Wade decision, the Supreme Court decision which legalized abortion, is against abortion and participates in pro-life rallies. Now, feel the force of the anti-abortion movement and aim it at a pro spiritual life idea. After all, new life is threatened due to the legalization of abortion and the concomitant proliferation of abortion clinics. Likewise, the spiritual lives of many are threatened by the numbers of people no longer praying; by the fact that Churches of different denominations, including ours, are shutting down and sold as real estate; by the fact that mysticism is viewed by many as outmoded, despite that fact that Pope John Paul II believed that all people are called to be mystics. If the spiritual lives of people weaken and even fail, aid to other people also falls off. Wouldn't my heart grow colder if I allow myself not to care if the unborn are killed, if people, combatants and innocents, are killed in war, and if people are executed? Wouldn't my heart also grow colder if I choose not to pray, or to rarely pray? The Bishop had a good insight. It's something to think about.

Blessings, Fr. Walter

Plastic Bag Recycling Program – COMPLETED

We are happy to report, that in less than one month, over 500 pounds of plastic bags have been collected in honor of Joey Ventimiglia! This is yet another testament to the hearts Joey has impacted. Effective today, we will no longer be collecting plastic bags.

We hope that going forward you will continue to recycle bags and think of Joey when doing so. All of the plastic bag items (bags, bubble wrap, ziplock bags, stretchwrap, etc.) can be recycled at most local grocery stores.

From the bottom of everyone's heart, we thank you for your support and effort with this collection. Once the bench is made and is in its new home on the grounds of Our Lady of Peace School, we will post a picture for all to see the end result.

American Needs Fatima October 13, 2018 – 12:00 Noon By the marquee at Our Lady of Peace

America is at a historic crossroad. Secularists are trying to push God from the public square. They reject His beneficiary action upon society. But without God, where will our leaders get the wisdom to solve the great problems we continue to face? We must stop the secularist advance and pray to God for help through the intercession of His Mother, Mary. That is why we're launching the tenth Public Square Rosary Crusade.

In The Secret of the Rosary, Saint Louis de Montfort said: “Public prayer is far more powerful than private prayer to appease the anger of God and call down His mercy, and Holy Mother Church, guided by the Holy Ghost, has always advocated public prayer in times of public tragedy and suffering.” This is once again a nationwide rally to be held across the country on this day and time. It will only take about 40 minutes. Each year the number of people coming to join me in saying the rosary has increased and I know Mary has been pleased. Please join me again this year and bring a friend and a lawn chair.

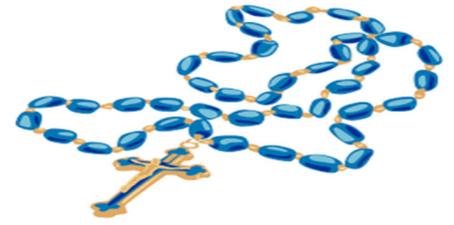

Any questions, please call Dodie Przybycien 630-323-7929

“By embracing the mission entrusted to him, St. Juan Diego helped bring Christ’s transforming love to cultures gripped by oppression and death. . . . Like St. Juan Diego, let us embrace our daily mission to help others encounter God’s transforming, life-giving love.”

After many years of being prevented by her father from entering religious life, Catherine entered the Daughters of Charity in 1830.

While in the convent, the Virgin Mary appeared to Catherine, revealing many prophecies concerning France. Mary also charged Catherine to have the "Miraculous Medal" made, emphasizing Mary's Immaculate Conception and mediation. This medal became one of the most powerful sacramentals in the Church.

A Message from Catholic Charities, Diocese of Joliet

At Catholic Charities, Diocese of Joliet, the Agency recently learned that James Nowak, a former Catholic priest who has been accused of child sexual abuse, has moved into a hotel next to the Agency's Downers Grove office. Catholic Charities was unaware of this arrangement and only learned of it from a television news story. At no time during James Nowak's stay at a nearby hotel were any of Catholic Charities clients put at risk. All minors visiting the Agency's Downers Grove office must be accompanied by an adult.

Catholic Charities operates as a separate legal entity from the Diocese of Joliet. Catholic Charities, Diocese of Joliet maintains its own 501c(3) nonprofit status, and is governed by its own board of directors.

Kathleen Langdon, Director of Development and Communications and spokesperson for the Agency said, "100% of Catholic Charities funding stays within our organization and is used exclusively to serve the poor in our community. Each day we remain focused on our mission to provide social services to people in need within the seven counties of the Diocese of Joliet as we serve individuals of all faiths and beliefs."

The Agency serves more than 56,000 individuals each year by helping to house, feed, and provide other services to the poor. Agency programs include: emergency services; homeless shelters; homeless prevention; transitional and permanent supportive housing; immigrant support services; veteran's assistance; senior outreach; case management; counseling; mobile food pantries; a soup kitchen; early childhood programs; and affordable housing.
