

Jesus rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Quiet! Be still!"
The wind ceased and there was great calm.

Our Lady of Peace 701 Plainfield Rd.~ Darien, Illinois (630)323-4333
The Marian Fathers of the Immaculate Conception

As our church has now almost entirely reopened, Fr. Mark and the Reopening Committee (Dc. Larry Fudacz, Leslie and Dave Bertram, Trish Gurtner, Pam and Joe Welgos, John Berardi, and Rod Tolentino), as well as Diane Ray, Eucharistic Adoration coordinator, would like to sincerely thank all those who, over the last year, graciously and generously volunteered as Greeters and Ushers, Sanitation, and Set-up for daily and Sunday Masses, as well as Reconciliation, Eucharistic Adoration and Funerals.

These individuals selflessly performed these roles while following the guidelines of the Diocese of Joliet to help mitigate any spread of infection in our church. Without their dedicated efforts, the ability of Our Lady of Peace church to reopen would have been adversely affected. We especially appreciated the way in which they maintained due respect and reverence for the sacraments and liturgical norms of our faith, while safeguarding the continued health of our clergy, staff and parishioners.

Let us thank the following:

Sue Arvetis	Dan Faloona	Joe O'Donnell
Evelyn Barza	Luis Ferrer	Mary Beth Owano
Nancy Becker	Agnieszka/Greg Fido	Fe Pangan

Please join us in extending our thanks to these volunteers for all of their ongoing hard work and sacrifices on behalf of our parish, as the Diocese has slowly but steadily coordinated the gradual reopening of its churches. And for those of you who were physically unable to serve in some capacity in the reopening process, we certainly appreciated your ongoing prayer support as well.

THE WIND AND THE SEA

Living along the shores of Lake Superior—the “big lake,” as the locals call it—you can often hear the advice, “Respect the lake; don’t take it for granted.” People who know Lake Superior respect its power and watch out for its many moods. Sunken ships and boats crushed into kindling are testimonies to what the lake can do.

The readings of this Sunday evoke our memories of the lake, of the mighty Mississippi River, or of the ocean itself. Who but God can control these mighty waters and set limits to their advance? The lake described in today’s Gospel was a body of water subject to sudden storms and churned into dangerous waves by terrible winds.

But these mighty agents are subject to God. The sailor and the fisher all respect the water. Even more, they respect the awesome power of the Maker of wind and sea.

FEAST OF FAITH

The Collection: A Privilege

As the altar is prepared for the celebration of the Eucharist, the collection is taken up. In the early church, this part of the Mass must have been something to behold, as the people suddenly began to move, bringing forward to the deacons and priests freshly-baked bread and fine wine. Then, after the Eucharistic Prayer, that same community came forward again in the Communion procession, and they received back the very gifts they had given, now transformed into something infinitely more precious than bread and wine: the very Body and Blood of Christ.

Beginning around the eleventh century, it became the custom for people to present money instead of bread and wine, and the procession of the faithful gradually disappeared (it survives in the liturgy of Holy Thursday). But the meaning is the same. We continue to bring the fruit of our labors and to offer them freely to God. And God continues to transform them into Christ. It is through our generous sharing of time, talent, and treasure that our parishes can preach the gospel, reach out to the sick and the imprisoned, and celebrate the sacraments.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

LIFE IN ACTION | MIRACLE OF THE MONTH

Lana and her husband have been together for many years and are parents to three boys, ages 2, 4, and 6 years. When first speaking to the Waterleaf staff, she expressed being undecided between abortion and adoption. Although being a two-income family, they are experiencing financial difficulties. Lana said that another baby would "absolutely" cause more financial stress and she feels her husband wants to move beyond the stage of having little children-wanting her to abort. She also conveyed concern about the adoption option because she felt it may affect her children to know they have a sibling who is not living with them. These factors, along with her strong belief in God and knowing that both her mother and mother-in-law do not believe in abortion, made her feel very alone in making this decision.

During her first ultrasound, Lana declared that abortion is off the table because she was farther along in the pregnancy than she first thought. She said it was amazing to see the movement of the baby and that cemented her decision for birth. In speaking with her advocate, Lana said one of her biggest worries is not having health insurance. She was unsure if she qualified for Medicaid since she and her husband most likely earn too much money. She cried quite a bit at this appointment, stating the stress of this decision is great. Along with being a mom of three young children, she works with pre-school and kindergarten age kids; she loves kids, so the thought of placing her child for adoption seemed overwhelming.

At her second visit, Lana confirmed she and her husband had made the decision for birth and to place the child for adoption, had completed the paperwork to apply for a medical card and will make an appointment with her O.B. when she receives the card. Additionally, she has begun speaking with an adoption agency. She expressed that she is feeling some sadness over her decision but feeling much better.

At her third Waterleaf visit, Lana confirmed that she is currently researching two potential families for the adoption. She received her medical card and will be seeing her O.B. soon.

During a follow-up call, Lana excitedly told her advocate that she and her husband have decided they want to parent their child and are looking forward to seeing if they will finally get their daughter.
